RAMADAN AND EID

During the month of Ramadan Muslims fast from sunrise to sunset.

It says in a hadith regarding Ramadan that on the first night of Ramadan, satan is shackled and the gates of hell are closed. Whereas the gates of Paradise are opened and that an announcer announces: 'O seeker of good; come near!' and 'O seeker of evil; stop!'

This beautiful hadith shows that Ramadan is not only about staying hungry or thirsty, rather it is a time to as much good as you can.

EID DAY

At the end of the month of Ramadan, we celebrate the day of Eid.

We do this because Allah the Almighty has told us to do so, as a celebration of the fasts and sacrifices we made during the month of Ramadan. However celebration does not mean that we forget everything we learnt during the month of Ramadan.

This is why we start the Eid day with the Eid prayer in the Mosque, so that we don't forget to remember Allah especially when celebrating. Fasting is not allowed on Eid day.

RAMADAN GAZA APPEAL

“Allah continues to help the servant as long as the servant helps his brother.”

(Sahih Muslim 2699)

During the month of Ramadan Atfal have been challenged to raise funds for Gaza, one of the methods used was a tuck shop that was held in Leicester Jama'at, Over 600 pounds was raised. There are plans for tuck shops to be held throughout the different Qiadats, so be on the lookout in your local Qiadat. Contact your local Nazim Atfal for more details.

The Leicester Atfal after a successful and tiring tuck shop.

PARENTS EVENING

Children and parents from Nottingham and Burton had a chance to attend a parents evening, and voice their feedback, concerns and suggestions for improvements. We need your help to improve so let us know what you enjoy and what we can improve.

A successful Parents evening in Nottingham. Over 100 parents, children and organisers in attendance
